Review cycle	On any change to the Binance partner arrangement or to Tenxex charges

Tenxex Exchange Corp. does not set or charge your trading fees. Trading, funding, deposit, withdrawal and network charges are set and levied by Binance under Binance's own fee schedule. Tenxex receives an agreed commission from Binance, calculated by reference to transaction activity generated through the Platform. This document explains what you pay, what we receive, and the conflict of interest that arises.

1. Summary of the Charging Model

Question	Answer
Who sets the trading fee?	Binance. Its published fee schedule, VIP tiers, promotions and discounts apply to your account exactly as they would if you traded on Binance directly
Does Tenxex add a charge to my trades?	No, unless a charge is expressly displayed to you before you confirm the Instruction. Any such charge is described in section 4
How does Tenxex make money?	Binance pays Tenxex an agreed commission calculated by reference to the transaction activity generated through the Platform
Does that commission increase what I pay?	No. It is paid to Tenxex out of the fees Binance already charges. It does not add to your trading cost
Can Tenxex rebate its commission to me?	No. The partner programme rules prohibit partners from offering commission rebates to users. Any offer of a rebate in Tenxex's name is not authorised

Question	Answer
Who charges withdrawal and network fees?	Binance, together with the underlying blockchain networks. Tenxex receives none of it

2. Fees Charged by Binance

2.1 The following are charged by Binance directly to your account, in accordance with the Binance Terms and Binance's fee schedule, over which Tenxex has no control:

- spot and, where applicable, other trading fees, on a maker and taker basis and subject to Binance's own VIP tier structure and any fee discounts;
- conversion and simplified buy/sell charges, including any spread embedded in a quoted price;
- fiat deposit and withdrawal charges, card processing charges and correspondent bank charges;
- crypto-asset withdrawal charges and the underlying blockchain network fees;
- any funding, borrowing, financing or product-specific charge applicable to a product you use;
- any dormancy, administrative or investigation charge applied by Binance under its own terms.

2.2 Binance's fee schedule is published by Binance and may change at any time in accordance with the Binance Terms. You should consult it before trading. Fee figures displayed on the Platform are sourced from Binance for convenience; Binance's published schedule and its account records are definitive.

2.3 Your Binance fee tier depends on your own activity and holdings as assessed by Binance. Using the Platform does not by itself improve or worsen that tier.

3. Remuneration Received by Tenxex

3.1 Tenxex receives an agreed commission from Binance under the partner arrangement between them, calculated by reference to transaction activity generated through the Platform – in substance, a share of the trading fees Binance collects from users introduced by, or trading through, the Platform. That share is 30% of eligible Binance trading fees attributable to activity generated through the Platform, subject to the applicable terms of the Binance partner agreement.

Item	Detail
Payer	Binance, not the user
Basis	A percentage share of the trading fees generated by activity attributable to the Platform, as set out in the partner agreement
Commission rate	30% of eligible Binance trading fees attributable to activity generated through the Platform, subject to the applicable terms of the Binance partner agreement
Products covered	Eligible trading products and transaction activity covered by the Binance partner agreement
Payment frequency and currency	As specified in the partner agreement between Tenxex and Binance
Effect on the user	None. The commission is paid out of fees already charged by Binance and does not increase the price you pay

3.2 No rebates or inducements. The partner programme rules prohibit partners from offering commission rebates to users, and prohibit soliciting existing Binance users to open new accounts for the purpose of generating rebates. Tenxex does not offer cashback, fee-sharing or rebates on its commission, and any communication claiming otherwise is fraudulent or unauthorised and should be reported to security@tenxex.com.

3.3 Tenxex may also receive from Binance non-monetary support such as technical integration assistance, account management and co-marketing. Any material inducement is disclosed here.

4. Charges Levied Directly by Tenxex

4.1 The core Platform – registration, interface access, order transmission, portfolio and analytics views and standard support – is provided at no charge to users.

4.2 Where Tenxex introduces an optional paid feature, subscription tier or platform fee, the following apply without exception: the amount and basis are displayed before you incur the charge; you must affirmatively opt in; the charge is billed separately from your Binance account; and the fee is listed in the table below before it takes effect.

Tenxex charge	Amount	Basis
None at the effective date of this document	–	–

4.3 As at the effective date of this document, Tenxex levies no direct charge on users. Any future charge will be added to the table above and notified in accordance with section 7 before it takes effect.

4.4 Tenxex never accepts funds or crypto-assets from users for trading, deposit, custody or settlement. Any request purporting to require such a payment is fraudulent.

5. Conflicts of Interest

5.1 The conflict. Because our remuneration is calculated by reference to transaction activity, we earn more when users trade more and larger. Trading more frequently increases your costs and is not, in itself, in your interest.

5.2 How we manage it.

- we provide execution and information services only, and give no advice, personal recommendation or suitability assessment;
- we do not operate incentive schemes, gamified prompts, streaks, leaderboards or notifications designed to induce unnecessary trading;
- our staff are not remunerated on the basis of individual users' trading volumes;
- marketing and product copy must be fair, clear and not misleading, and is reviewed against this Policy before publication;
- risk warnings are presented prominently and are not conditional on trading activity;
- we disclose the commission arrangement here, in the Terms of Use and in the Risk Disclosure Statement.

5.3 What this means for you. Treat any content on the Platform as information, not as a reason to trade. Trade on your own judgement, and consider independent advice.

6. Third-Party and Pass-Through Costs

6.1 Blockchain network fees, correspondent and intermediary bank charges, card scheme fees and payment provider charges are incurred through your Binance account and are borne by you. Tenxex receives no part of them.

6.2 Currency conversion, where required, is performed by Binance or its payment partners at their rates and spreads. You bear the exchange rate risk.

6.3 Taxes arising from your activity are your sole responsibility. Platform reports are provided for convenience and are not tax statements.

7. Changes

7.1 Changes to Binance's fees are made by Binance under the Binance Terms and may take effect without notice from us.

7.2 Where Tenxex introduces or increases a charge levied directly on users, we give not less than thirty (30) calendar days' notice by email or Platform notification. Reductions and removals may take effect immediately.

7.3 Material changes to the commission arrangement with Binance are reflected in an updated version of this document.

8. Worked Examples

Scenario	What you pay	What Tenxex receives
You buy USD 5,000 of BTC through the Platform, and Binance charges you a taker fee of 0.10%	USD 5.00, charged by Binance	USD 1.50, being 30% of that USD 5.00, paid to Tenxex by Binance out of the fee it has already charged you
You withdraw BTC from your Binance account	Binance's withdrawal charge plus the network fee	Nothing
You deposit fiat to your Binance account	Binance's deposit charge, if any	Nothing
You use the Platform to view your portfolio without trading	Nothing	Nothing

8.1 The figures above are illustrative. Your actual trading fee is set by Binance and depends on your Binance fee tier, the market, the order type and any discount or promotion applied to your account.

9. Questions

9.1 Questions about a charge on your Binance account, including how a trading fee was calculated, must be raised with Binance, which sets and applies it.

9.2 Questions about this document, about any charge levied by Tenxex, or about our commission arrangement should be sent to support@tenxex.com. If you believe a Tenxex charge has been applied incorrectly, you may raise it under the Complaints Handling Policy.
